Chicago Police
Hunt Sex Maniac

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(UP)—A giant manhunt covered Chicago today for the sex maniac of teen-aged hoodlums who strangled three young boys and left their nude bodies stacked like cordwood in a ditch.

The mangled bodies of the victims, three "wonderful" home-loving boys, lay in county morgue.

John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton Jr., 11, had been strangled by hand. Their friend, 13-year-old Robert Peterson, had been viciously beaten on the head and then strangled with a tie or rope.

The clothes of all three boys had been ripped from them and, marks showed their eyes, mouths and hands had been taped. They were not sexually assaulted.

It was by far one of the worst crimes in Chicago's history.

In their modest bungalow homes, the murdered boys' parents were near collapse.

ESCAPEE SENTENCED

Lawrence Sipes entered a plea of guilty to escaping from the Indiana State farm Wednesday morning in open court. J. Frank Durham had been appointed his attorney at his request to Judge Allee and at the expense of the county, as Sipes said he was a pauper and had no money to hire an attorney. He was sentenced to the Indiana State Reformatory at Pendleton for a term of one to five years on his plea of guilty.

PSC SCHEDULES
PHONE HEARING
AT CLOVERDALEMEETING TO BE HELD IN SCHOOL GYM ON NOVEMBER 15

A public hearing on the Cloverdale telephone case will be held in the Cloverdale school gymnasium at 10 a. m., on the morning of November 18, the Indiana Public Service Commission ruled yesterday when the original hearing was held as to whether or not the General Telephone Co., or the Clay County Co-op would be given the privilege of taking over the Cloverdale and Putnamville areas.

Some evidence was heard by the Commission, but when William Beck, Charles Whitaker and Lester Parker of Cloverdale said their Citizens Telephone Improvement Committee and the Clay County Co-op survey had not been completed, and they asked for additional time and it was granted.

Witnesses for the General Telephone Co. said they would charge, if granted the territory, the same rates as are charged in other communities comparable to Cloverdale. They also said they would reestablish the telephone system and rebuild the entire system.

The Commission said the survey by the Clay County group should be completed by November 18, at the time of the hearing and additional evidence then will be heard. Cloverdale witnesses said a hearing wanted to be heard if the hearing was changed to Cloverdale. Lloyd C. Wampler represented the Clay County and Cloverdale group.

If General took over the area, some of the customers told PSC, rates would increase as much as 100 per cent or more. General said rates at Putnamville would increase $1.197 per month, Eminence $4.284, and Cloverdale $16.014.

The customers said the cooperative firm now serves exchanges at Reelsville, Poland and Mt. Meridian, they have "community" interests, and their service would be better if served by the same utility.

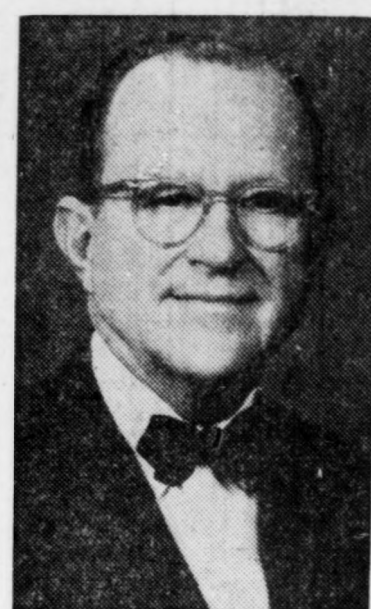

They also said General's purchase into the area would split the cooperative's territory and would result in delays and needless expense in telephoning from one side of the Cagles Mill lake to the other.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(UP)—Premier Edgar Faure called in his cabinet today to prepare for the Geneva Big Four conference and take up a stack of pressing international problems that piled up while his government teetered in the balance.

Four's prestige was bolstered by a vote of confidence in the National Assembly Tuesday on the Algerian problem. The vote, 708 to 254, was a larger margin than had been expected and gave him a free hand to cope with the problems at hand.

GENEVA PARLEYPRESIDENT, SECRETARY OF STATE DISCUSS BIG FOUR MEETING

DENVER, Oct. 19.—(UP)—President Eisenhower holds a last-minute bed side conference today with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles about the forthcoming Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva.

When Dulles' plane landed Tuesday night, he said the theme of his and the President's conference was "getting ready for Geneva." But Dulles and the recuperating President were expected to cover a wide range of foreign developments.

The conference will be brief, on doctors' orders, and was set some time during the morning. Later today, Dulles will fly back to Washington for a conference Thursday with congressional leaders of both parties. He leaves Saturday for Geneva.

The President steadily gained strength and his doctors went ahead with their methodical preparations to get him back on his feet again. He was allowed in a wheelchair Tuesday for the first time.

But hospital corpsmen lifted him from his bed and into the wheelchair, and, after pushing him about on eighth floor terrace at Fitzsimons Army Hospital for 30 minutes, returned him to the bed.

While the President was sitting in his room, he was visited by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, his younger brother, who is the president of Pennsylvania State University. Mrs. Eisenhower brought the President up-to-date on going on at their Gettysburg, Pa., farms.

Mr. Eisenhower signed documents proclaiming Oct. 26 as "National Day of Prayer" and extending emergency flood relief to two more states—Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

After the President enjoyed his first wheelchair outing, Mrs. Eisenhower made her first public social appearance since he was stricken Sept. 24.

She attended a lunch and fashion show given by officers' wives at the hospital officers' club, and later went to the home of her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, before returning to the hospital.

It was the second time the first lady had left the main hospital building since the President's heart attack.

TIGERS VERSUS BUTLER

On Saturday afternoon DePauw's current football edition will attempt to do something no Tiger team has done since 1925—beat Butler on the gridiron.

Enmeshed with Valparaiso in a three-way tie for third place in the ICC, both clubs will carry 2-2 league records into the 2 p. m. CDT contest in Butler Bowl.

Although the rivalry is one of Indiana's oldest, dating back to 1890, the two teams have not met since Butler rang up its tenth straight win over DePauw in 1947.

Blessed with four backs who are averaging more than five yards a carry, Snively plans to start virtually the same eleven which opened at Valpo.

THE METHODIST HOME, FRANKLIN, INDIANA

Indiana's new Methodist Home for the aged at Franklin, Ind., now half completed, would take nearly 750,000 workmen seven and one half years to construct in the days of Solomon according to Dr. Sumner L. Martin, executive secretary.

Dr. Martin based his figures on the Biblical report of the construction of Solomon's temple 30 centuries ago. It took 183,300 men seven and one half years to procure construction material, transport them and construct the temple, which was only one fourth as large as the home. Dimensions of the temple were about 100 by 33 feet in contrast to the home which will have 18 times as much floor space or nearly one and one half acres.

Architect Alden Meranda estimated that in this day it would take 140 men 15 months to construct the home from the making of tools to mine the ore to the transportation of material and final construction. The home is expected to be completed in May of 1956, about 15 months after breaking ground.

Construction costs of the home are $809,628. If Solomon's workers were to build the home, their pay would be only $1.08 for their seven and one half years of labor.

WORLD COMMUNITY DAY
OBSERVED NOV. 4TH

The United Church Women of the National Council of Churches will observe World Community Day, at Bethel A.M.E. church on November 4th. Miss Nan Robins of St. Andrews Episcopal church is president of the United Church Women and Miss Roxanna Miles is chairman of World Community Day Observance.

In 1955 the helpless and the needy must still be cared for. Our aid is vital to their very existence. But the rehabilitation of those who can stand on their own feet and are making a brave fight to start a new life demands our attention perhaps to an even greater degree than do the helpless. Thousands of Arab refugees are living outside the economic, social, and religious life of their communities. In French West Africa large-scale feeding is going on. Refugees in Europe and Asia need our care. Church World Service is again shipping tons of surplus foods to the needy in many parts of the world and asks for World Community Day funds to help in this great undertaking.

Both money and clothing are needed. Young boys are coming into West Germany from behind the Iron Curtain to seek a job and a new life. A decent suit and an overcoat may make all the difference as to whether a lad will find work or end up in idleness and become a juvenile delinquent. Will you think of him, and will you think of men in desperate need of overcoats and other clothes in their new jobs or in their search for employment?

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By Margaret Latrobe

What makes people shy? And how many of us confuse shyness with modesty, assuming that they are almost synonyms? Actually it seems to me they are more nearly direct opposites.

Modesty is one thing, shyness quite another. Modesty is nothing more than good manners and realistic humility knowing that one's accomplishments are after all comparatively meager.

But shyness—ah, what another story. Shyness is based not on the true situation, but on lies. It is a denial and a withdrawal. It is the perpetual question mark in the mind, always answered in the negative.

Will I be able to meet this group of people graciously? No. Do my clothes look right—are they appropriate? No. Will I be able to favorably impress a prospective employer? No. Does my husband really love me? No. Do I measure up? Am I a really worthwhile person? No.

Shy people indulge in a form of self-cruelty which, while unconscious and involuntary, is based on the opposite of true fact. Actually, they do measure up, their clothes are fine, their abilities often superior, their knowledge marked. But everything they possess in personality is covered, concealed, withdrawn and denied—not by others but by themselves.

Why? Well, a certain hypersensitivity as children turned their responses inward until until self-consciousness became so acute they were helpless to forget themselves. Every slightest triviality—a word, a gesture, an incident—became a monster directing attack upon them. The pain was too great, so they withdrew to the quiet comfort of insulation and isolation.

Experts say people aren't born shy. That it is an acquired taste, like olives. Experts insist that to cure shyness, one must relive the past and recall what caused this self-conscious suffering.

I can't buy that one. (And it is pleasant being a layman sometimes—you aren't expected to be as bright as the experts.) It would seem to me that recognition of shyness is enough. That recalling the guilts and the blame and the mistakes of those who ostensibly caused our shyness would only create more problems.

It would seem enough merely to recognize one's self-imposed tyrant, and replace the habitual pattern with a bright new one.

Do the thing you most fear, they say. If it is meeting people, go meet hundreds with a smile. If it is making speeches, make them until listeners beg for mercy

If it is fear of showing affection, throw kisses like mad. Whatever it be—let fly.

Ethel Merman said she was never frightened on opening nights in the theatre. "I figure if somebody in the audience could sing better, they would be up here singin' instead of me."

Shyness isn't the same as being timid or bashful or modest or different. It's just a pain in the neck.

FILLMORE PTA HELD ITS OCTOBER MEET MONDAY

The Fillmore P. T. A. held its October meeting October 17th in the gym.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Jean Giddings. Devotions were given by Rev. Tresler of the Methodist church.

Everyone was asked to come masked or pay a 5c door fee. The judges for the masquerade were Dorothy Goodman, Paul Pruitt, and Norman Clark. Those winning prizes for costumes were: the tallest, Thelma Lisby; prettiest, Bonnie McCloud; shortest, Kathy Sutherland; nearest, Mike Ozment; funniest, Sandra Sibbitt; skinniest, Sandra O'Hair; fattest, Mabel Joseph. A prize was also given for the one with the ugliest face not masked. This was won by Jim Giddings. The prizes were candy and Hallows-een horns. Refreshments of ice cream sandwiches were served.

MILLER SCHOOL NEWS

Fifth grade pupils of Miss Nichols' room visited station, WGRE recently. Sound effects, microphones, studios, and signals were explained. A recording of all voices was made. DaVinci's exhibit was also enjoyed while in the Union building.

John Doyle from Columbus, Ohio enrolled in Miss Harrison's third grade.

An exciting and profitable trip was made by the homerooms of Miss Reuss and Mrs. Rockhill to the Greencastle Fire Department and the Public Library during Fire Prevention Week. To see the men slide down the pole in the fire station was a real experience. Miss Green and Miss Hoak, student teachers, helped in planning and conducting the trip. Mr. Tucker's sixth grade visited the Leonardo Exhibit.

Ronnie Crowe of Mr. Hurst's room, has moved to Putnamville. John Neyhard had a birthday October 13. Miss Steinhauer and Miss Skinner are student teachers in the sixth grade.

Junior Red Cross boxes have all been filled. But the big and wonderful news is this: several of the first graders are reading from their books. Soon others will be reading.

SOLDIER TAKES LIFE

MIAMI, Oct. 19.—(UP)—A soldier's suicide note today told the story of his love for a major's wife that began with their headlined flight across Germany and ended in blazing gunfire, suicide and murder at a busy Miami intersection.

"This ends what was once a beautiful romance," the note said.

George D. Bryson, Jr., 32-year-old combat veteran of two wars, wrote the note Tuesday a few hours before he pumped two bullets into his mistress, Mrs. Sylvia Dahl Hess, 22, then shot himself in the temple and fell dead across her body.

Witnesses said Bryson met Mrs. Hess at an intersection near where she worked as a waitress. They quarreled violently and slapped at each other. Then Bryson took a gun from his pocket and fired the three fatal shots.

Mr. Dale ducked this lead, too, and Mr. Muzzy won with the nine. On the third diamond lead, a spade was discarded from dummy. Mr. Abel also dropped a spade and Mr. Dale won with the ace.

BIDDING HIS TIME
Up to this point Mr. Dale had been bidding his time trying to pick up some clue about which major suit to finesse for his ninth trick. He could count one winner in diamonds and five winners in clubs.

He also had the two major suit aces, making eight tricks in all. For his game-going trick he could finesse against the king of hearts or the king of spades.

As the hand developed, the situation became crystal clear. Neither finesse was necessary. At the fourth trick Mr. Dale cashed the king of clubs. He followed with the queen of clubs and on this trick Mr. Muzzy showed out, discarding a small spade.

At this stage Mr. Muzzy felt pretty cocky. "You may have a little trouble making this one, Dale, old boy," he remarked.

"You're right," Mr. Dale replied, "so I think I'll let you help me." So saying he led his last diamond.

LEAD FROM KING
Mr. Muzzy was in the lead. He cashed two diamonds but then found it necessary to lead from one of his kings. The closed hand was now down to the ace, queen, jack of spades, the ace, queen of hearts and the trey of clubs.

Mr. Muzzy chose to lead a spade and Mr. Dale won with the queen which represented the extra trick he needed. He still had a club left to reach the good clubs on the board. Thus he won nine tricks without the risk of a finesse.

NOW IS THE TIME TO FIX LAWN FOR NEXT YEAR

Purdue University's turf grass specialist, Dr. W. H. Daniel, today listed advice for Hoosier homeowners to follow in the preparation of their lawns for winter.

Daniel reported that many lawnowners have observed dead areas in their lawns even though the neighbors' yards may appear vigorous with bluegrass growth after the recent rains.

The hot humid period from early July through late August caused the most disease in turf grass ever recorded in the Midwest, Daniel said. Some homeowners have already applied a good nitrogen fertilizer to encourage new regrowth where grass died. However, grass can still respond in deeper color, added vigor, and increased density of nitrogen is applied anytime during the fall.

If available, a pelleted fertilizer to dry turf without watering can be easily spread by hand. Most turf fertilizers have specific recommendations on the container for application to lawns.

A reseeding of the thin spots with a mixed lawn grass seed will help make the lawn more uniform. Daniel suggests to spread the seed lightly over the thin area and use a rake to get the seed into contact with the moist soil. Grass loosened by the rake should be left to serve as a mulch.

TRUMAN SPEAKS OUT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Former President Truman, in the second installment of his memoirs, said today that former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes took it upon himself to move the foreign policy of the United States in a direction with which the President could not agree.

Byrnes, Mr. Truman said, kept him "in the dark" about the 1945 Moscow conference and was, in effect, "assuming the responsibilities of the President."

Moncastle NOW SHOWING

Byrnes attempted to negotiate with the Russians on his own initiative and came to think "his judgement was better than the President's," Mr. Truman said.

The former secretary of state said in Columbia, S. C., that he would have no comment on the former President's criticism at this time. He said he may later comment on the critical days about which Mr. Truman had written and Byrnes' role as secretary.

CRANE, Ind., Oct. 19.—(UP)—SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 19.—(UP)—Authorities poked through ruins of a modest three-room frame home on the western edge of the city today for cause of a fire in which three small Negro girls were burned to death.

Fire Chief Richard J. Duck speculated the blaze may have been set off when an oil heater ignited clothing.

The victims were Tannie Mae Smith, 3; Banice, 2, and three-month-old Ronnie Mae, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.
